I fully understand and agree to abide by its terms and conditions listed below:

All treks are organized by Explore Adventure Sports and More Than Mountain Treks Ltd. All group members will be camping according to the decisions of either the guide, sherpa, or tour leader until returning to Kathmandu. It is up to the guide to change the itinerary, camp spots or add additional rest days to accommodate for weather changes or individual needs. Cooperation is most appreciated. If any group member wishes to return prior to the group, or if the estimated period is cut short, Explore Adventure Sports or More Than Mountain Treks will not be responsible for any refund.

All group members are responsible for their own personal belongings and gear. In case of loss or theft, the trekking company will not be responsible. Please use locks on luggage when traveling.

In case of emergency helicopter evacuation, the client is responsible for evacuation expenses. It is necessary to get travel insurance that includes emergency evacuation coverage. If transportation is cancelled due to bad weather or strikes, or technical problems, the trekking company will not be responsible.
